Firearms Violence Research: What Do We Know and What Do Policymakers Need to Know?

8:45 am - 10:15 am

Plenary Panel

Grand Ballroom I/II/III

This panel will discuss current firearms violence research including the context in which gun crimes commonly occur; gun ownership patterns and their relationship to violent crime patterns; illegal gun markets; and the usefulness of gun tracing. In addition the panel will discuss gaps in past and existing firearms research; current legislative proposals concerning firearms; and research questions that should be addressed in order to inform future policy decisions. Audience discussion with panel members will encourage exploration of these issues.

DNA and Privacy Issues: What's the Balance?

8:30 am - 10:00 am

Plenary Panel

Grand Ballroom I/II/III

The relationship between DNA and privacy has stimulated an intense national debate. This panel brings together four highly qualified participants to discuss various aspects of the DNA and privacy questions. The panel will explore the role DNA can play in criminal investigations and the justice system, future technological possibilities in its application, privacy issues associated with DNA, and constitutional and other legal issues regarding the use of forensic DNA analysis and the direction in which this policy is moving. Audience discussion with panel members will encourage exploration of these issues.
